

MEDIA RELEASE 13 April 2008

MEDIA ALERT

POETRY and PIGEONS JOIN FORCES

Championship pigeons and an array of Australia's leading and fledgling poets will collaborate in a new cultural endeavour that will see the written word soar to new heights.

The unique event will involve eight title-winning pigeons - each carrying a newly minted poem - in a race along a section of the eastern seaboard to determine the nation's new Bard - and which poem has wings.

All the details of this fascinating flight of poetic license will be revealed at a media conference tomorrow.

When: Monday, 14 April 2008

Where: Art Gallery Road, The Domain.

The grass area directly across the road from the Art Gallery of NSW.

Time: 11am

What: Poets, pigeons and Australia's most successful pigeon racing husband and wife team.

Media inquiries: Johanna Featherstone, Red Room Company, on 0425 312 334, or Graham Cassidy, Cato Counsel, on 0419 202317.
