

Poetry Folio of Amy L.
Primary Extension and Academic Challenge (PEAC), WA, 2013

Curiosity's Cabin

A cabin of curiosities can hold some curious things some things that are sharp some things with wings
Although there are some curious things
There are some things also quite interesting
Like a dragons tooth or even
A mini camera booth
Everything always has curiosity in it.

I Have Plans

I have plans,
To knock out the human race
To rule this world
To rule this obnoxious, annoying place.
I have plans
To be able to read, write and spell
To be able to breathe out of water
And maybe even smell.
To prance and dance whenever I want
To learn the jig, jive and other curious things
To be able to taste the sweet flavour of a croissant.
There's so many 'to be able to'
and 'if I could' I wouldn't be able to count them all Hey wait a second I can't count at all!
So there my plans, I've told you them all
So that's the end, bye, I've got to Go think some more.

My Haikus

Summer Days

Soft sandy beaches
White fluffy rolling waves
Hut on the beach shore

Just Chilling

Relaxing back
On holiday enjoying
Having lots of fun